

CRA Arctic II: Information on support for Russian participants

Russian Foundation for Basic Research (RFBR) is intends to support Russian researchers participating in the projects submitted in response to the CRA Arctic II call.

The modalities of support, including amount of grant award per project, will be a subject of approval and expected to be announced after March 11, 2019.

This national annex document will be updated together with publication of national call announcement on RFBR website: <https://www.rfbr.ru/>

---